

"At The Ecovillage we needed a telephone system that adequately catered for our 15 offices including the publicly open Interpretive Centre. Craig from Datatrek was clear in his advice on systems and his choice has lasted with us now for some 6 years with the morphing of numbers and changes along the way. Craig's installation was cost effective and quick. He worked with the other trades on what was sometimes a complicated renovation of a Queenslander and the challenges it brought. We have never experienced problems with our telephone system in the 6 years we have occupied the offices and, if we have ever needed more connections or data points, Craig is always called."
